ENABLING ACT IN STUART'S HANDS

Senators Mapp, Walker and Early File Written Statements Today.

QUESTIONS AT ISSUE.

Governor Has Five Days From Time Bill is Presented to Him to Indicate His Position.

Richmond, Va., February 17.—The Williams enabling act was signed by Lieutenant-Governor Ellyson and Speaker Cox in the presence of the two houses yesterday, and laid before Governor Stuart shortly before 2 o'clock. Governor Stuart was just leaving his office to attend the luncheon tendered him by his chief of staff, and has not as yet taken the matter under consideration. Senators Mapp and Walker, for the supporters of the bill, and Senator Early, for the opposition, filed their written statements or briefs this morning before 10 o'clock, the Governor having indicated that he would allow up to that time for the reception of such papers.

In his statement on the subject the Governor said that he would not see delegations which merely desired to make appeals to him for or against the bill, but would consider written briefs, and as to the parliamentary and constitutional questions involved, would seek advice of authorities of his own selection. The Governor has five days from the time at which the bill is presented to him to indicate his position. Dry leaders were positive in their claims last night that he would sign the bill, leaving all questions of parliamentary procedure to the two houses which passed it, and of constitutionality to the courts, where the matter will inevitably go. Opponents were as positive that as the Governor had been in the Constitutional Convention, and was an authority on that document, he would not lightly go in the face of what appeared to them to be its plain provision that the bill required twenty-one votes for its passage in the Senate.

It was stated last night that an element outside of the Legislature had expressed the hope that the Governor will sign the bill, so that the point of its constitutionality may be raised in the courts later when the General Assembly has adjourned and there is no possibility of passing a new bill by a constitutional vote. In any event, the fact that the Governor has asked for briefs is taken to indicate a doubt in his own mind, which opponents of the bill claim would give a strong foot-hold for its review by the courts.

WEATHER AND THE RIVER.

Only the More Powerful Steamers Able to Forge Through Ice.

The cold weather of the past few days has virtually brought navigation on the river to a close as far as sailing vessels are concerned. The Norfolk steamers continue to make trips, arriving and departing about on time. The Baltimore steamers are making their trips, but considerable difficulty is experienced in entering some rivers and creeks on account of ice.

The steamer for the river landings and the monumental city which was to have left here yesterday afternoon, did not depart until about 9 o'clock.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Sir Stuart Montagu Samuel, radical member of British Parliament for Whitechapel, was yesterday ordered by Justice Sir Sydney Rowlatt, of the king's bench division, to pay penalties and costs amounting to $65,000 because he voted in the house of commons while his firm had a contract with the British government. The money will be paid to Dr. William Bird, as informer.

President Wilson will veto the Burnett immigration bill if it comes to him for signature with the so-called literacy test contained in it. Prospects are that the bill will pass the Senate as reported from the committee, but the measure never will become law, according to close friends of the President. The President does not consider literacy a test of character, and believes some other means should be devised to prevent undesirable aliens from entering the United States. He told callers yesterday that he had given his view to the Senate committee, and had left it to them to make it public or not, as they chose.

Thirty Bulgarians were killed and many wounded in a fight between Greeks and Bulgarians at Tirnovia, according to a dispatch received in Paris. Fifteen Greeks were wounded.

Lewis G. Smith, sixty-nine years old, a veteran of the civil war, was killed; David Lewis, an automobile racer, was seriously injured and four other persons, three of them women, were injured seriously yesterday when Lewis' racing car skidded and crashed into a crowd in front of the Sawtelle Soldiers' Home.

When Geza Sabadi, of Milwaukee, who fatally shot a boarder and then committed suicide, was found to have consumed two pieces of chewing gum, authorities at the morgue recalled that the last seven suicides in Milwaukee have all been found with the same number of unchewed fragments of gum in their pockets. Milwaukee is America's city of suicides, there being a greater percentage of suicides there than in any other American city. The morgue authorities are wondering now if there is some strange coincidence, or if there is something in chicle, a plant used in making chewing gum, which induces the suicidal mania. Of the seven suicides two were women.

Driven insane by the sight of throngs of richly attired women, while she faced the blinding snowstorm without money or proper food and scanty attire, Mary McCormick, of Westport, Conn., suddenly drew a revolver from her pocket yesterday on the street in Bridgport, Conn., and threatened to kill Helen Francis unless her demand for money was complied with. The hold-up took place in the busiest part of the business district just before noon. William W. Roberts, hearing the demand, snatched the revolver away. A policeman saw the scuffle and took the woman in charge. "She had furs and a silver meshbag like other women I saw on the street, and I would have killed her if she had not given me money," declared the McCormick woman at police headquarters. "Why should she have money and fine clothes, while I have hardly had anything to eat."

Militant suffragettes early yesterday fired a huge cannon captured from the Russians in one of the battles of the Crieman war. For 60 years it had stood silent as an ornament in the city park at Blackburn, England. The whole city was shaken by the explosion, and people flocked into the streets in the darkness, fearing that a mine disaster had occurred in the neighborhood, for it was not until daylight that the cause of the explosion was learned. Then it was found that the suffragettes had carefully cleaned from the bore of the gun over half a century's accummulation of gravel and stones before ramming home a heavy charge of gunpowder. In the vicinity, attached to a tree, floated a long strip of calico, inscribed: "Wake up, Blackburn! The labor party, which claims it stands for justice and freedom, supports a government that tortures woman under the infamous 'cat and mouse' law."

STEAMER IN PERIL IS LATER FLOATED

Ocean Liner Roma Runs Upon Rocks During Storm Last Night.

PANIC ON STEAMBOAT.

Tugboat Potomac Icebound—Crew Abandon Her—Will Inevitably Be Crushed by Field of Ice.

Newport, R. I., Feb. 17.—The radio station here picked up an "S O S" call from the Fabre liner Roma, late yesterday afternoon, saying that she was ashore on the south side of No Man's Land. This information was transmitted immediately to the revenue cutter Itaska, whose position is not definitely known, but is believed to be somewhere in the vicinity of the stranded steamship.

At 9 o'clock last night the radio operators were able to make out that those on board the Roma, numbering over 400, were not greatly worried. Messages from the ship indicated that there was little fear of fatalities if help could be obtained within a reasonable time.

A later dispatch stated that the Roma had been floated and was on her way to Providence.

The storm is severe along the coast, with blizzard conditions, including snow, a rough sea, and the northwest wind, which sometimes blows with the velocity of a gale.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 7.—The steamer Queen City, bound from Pittsburgh to New Orleans with a crowd of Mardi Gras excursionists, was swept into a pier by the swift current when she tried to land at Louisville at 2 a. m., today, and sank. No lives were lost.

The 110 passengers were taken to shore by the lifesavers of the Louisville station. At signals of distress from Captain Gilhooley, men put out to the Queen City, and made trip after trip to shore, carrying all the passengers.

Passengers rushed to the decks, scantily clad, as the boat struck, and it was with difficulty that Captain W. C. Leeper and members of the crew restrained women from throwing themselves into the icy water.

Washington, Feb. 17.—The Navy tug Potomac, it is now regarded as a certainity, will never return from the mission of mercy on which she was dispatched two weeks ago, to the Bay of Islands, N. F., where the crews of two American fishing schooners were in imminent peril of death, their vessels having been frozen in on the bleak coast of southwestern Newfoundland.

The tug, which encountered impassable ice six miles from the distressed schooners, is herself frozen in, and abandoned by her crew. With her propeller broken off by the ice, she is drifting out into the Gulf of St. Lawrence, in the middle of a great flow twenty feet thick.

VISCOUNT SIUZO AOKI DIES.

Former Japanese Ambassador to This Country Had Been Ill For Some Time.

Tokio, Feb. 16.—Viscount Sulzo Aoki, former Japanese ambassador to the United States, died today.

Viscount Aoki was the son of a village doctor, born in 1844, and may be considered a self-made man. He was among the first of the Japanese to seek an education abroad, going to Germany for this purpose in 1860.

AT WASHINGTON THEATRES.

Miss Margaret Anglin in Shakespearean Repertory.

At the Belasco.

Surrounded by a remarkably poised and excellent cast, Miss Anglin, as an actress manager, achieved last evening at the Belasco the most artistic presentation of "Twelfth Night" given within the momory of playgoers of our day. The production was remarkable for the beauty of its scenes and costumes; the smoothness and swiftness of its movement, as well as for artistic and convincing characterizations, presented, without exception, by both Miss Anglin and her company of Shakespearean players.

Miss Anglin's Viola proves a captivating medley of clever and absorbing romance; almost human, and consistently feminine despite the disguise of doublet and hose—more than ever one of the most charming and capricious of Shakespeare's women as molded by the brain and heart of an actress than whom there is none who has greater mastery of the lights and shadows of dramatic expression.

Not only does Miss Anglin deserve the highest praise for the color and romance with which she imbues the characterization in her own hands, but also for the care she has taken and the generosity she has displayed in the selection of her company.

Tomorrow night, Friday night, and Saturday matinee the actress-manager will present "As You Like It," and on Wednesday and Saturday nights "The Taming of the Shrew."

Gayety.

As an up-to-date destroyer of sorrow, "Blutch" Cooper and his Beauty, Youth and Folly Company have anything backed off the boards that has visited the Gayety this season. "Blutch," and his partner, Tom McRae, make things lively from the start to the finish. Cooper, as Gus Grouch, a crank botanist, and Tom McRae, as "Smoke," are never at a loss to make their audiences shout with laughter. Without them the performance would be inappropriately named. They certainly do not furnish any of the youth, or beauty, but they are responsible for all of the folly.

It remains for the feminine part of the cast to furnish youth and beauty, Lucia Copper, Lottie Blackford, Mabel Webb, Jennie Ross, and Dolly Webb, all made themselves popular with the audiences and were forced to respond to a number of encores.

A musical specialty of exceptional merit was introduced between acts. Petronella, a young woman, who refuses to be known by any other name, won instant favor with her violin selections. She played everything from the masters to the present day hits in a way that prolonged the performance some time

REPORTS AGAINST WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Resolution Sent back With Recommendation That It Do Not Pass.

THE SECOND SETBACK.

Patrons of Bill Have Little Hope of Passage, But Expect to Force Recorded Vote in Both Houses.

Richmond, Va., Feb 17.—Woman suffrage received its first blow last night, when the House Committee on Privileges and Elections reported the joint resolution amending the State Constitution concerning the elective franchise and qualifications for office with the recommendation that it do not pass. Two years ago a similar resolution was offered by Mr. Montague, of Richmond, and received the same treatment at the hands of the committee. This session the joint resolution was brought in by Messrs. John W. Chalkley, of Wise; Hill Montague, of Roanoke, and A. T. Lincoln, of Smyth.

Its patrons had little hope of its passage, either in the committee or in the house, but expect to force a recorded vote in both branches. It is their claim that the movement for equal suffrage is steadily gaining ground, and that by another session the sentiment for such an amendment to the Constitution will have reached irrisistible proportions Since 1912, it is stated, four states have come into the suffrage ranks, making ten in which the women vote, with four or five others in which the preliminary steps have been taken for constitutional amendments.

Advocates of the bill before the committee stated very frankly that the only choice the General Assembly and people of Virginia had in the matter was to enact a suffrage amendment to the State Constitution now, or have it forced upon them through the amendment to the Federal Constitution within a few years. The contention evidently did not impress the committee. The vote was taken in executive session, and it was not stated how many advocates, if any, were recorded for suffrage in the committee.

TO UNVEIL SHAFT APRIL 27.

Arlington Monument Association Completes Plans for The Ceremony.

The Arlington Confederate Monument Association is completing arrangements for the unveiling of the Confederate monument in the Confederate section of Arlington Cemetery on April 27. Col. H. A. Herbert, who was secretary of the navy, in the second Cleveland administration, is president of the association.

The shaft and surmounting statute of the monument has arrived and are stored in the quartermaster's depot at Fort Myer. The parts of the mounment which came from Rome, will not be unpacked until late in March, when the work of erecting the monument will begin.

Although the sculptor, Sir Moses Ezekiel,contributed his work as an expression of love for the "Lost Cause," he having been a cadet at the Virginia Military Institute, the monument will cost about $50,000. The shaft and the castings cost $35,000 and transportation and erection will cost another $15,000. This was paid for by contributions from the various branches of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Mrs. Marion Butler, former president of the District Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, is chairman of the program committee. This committee will meet soon to arrange the program.

TRAIN SIDESWIPED.

Passengers are Pinioned in Wreckage in Missouri.

Springfield, Mo., Feb. 17.—Fifty persons were hurt, several seriously, when westbound Frisco passenger train No. 8, known as the St. Louis-Kansas City Flyer, sideswiped eastbound No. 104, the Springfield local, at Nicholas Junction, near here, early this morning.

Two coaches of the local were hurled into the ditch when the flyer struck the local as it was pulling into a siding. Passengers carried the injured through snow and mud to shelter.

A score of passengers were pinioned in the wreckage of the local's Pullman and chair car. They were removed by passengers on the flyer, none of whom were seriously hurt.

MOVE IN RIGHT DIRECTION.

"Pistol toting in Norfolk has got to stop if I have to go to the extreme limit of the law in administering punishment," announced Police Justice James Barron from the bench yesterday morning.

"In the future, for every conviction I intend giving a fine of $100 and ninety days in jail. If I discover that that doesn't stop the practice, I will go the limit and make the fine $100 and the jail sentence six months, which the law allows me to do."

COMMITTEE DENIES ALARMING STORIES

Army Bill is Pared Down to Retrench to Amount of $10,000,000.

PROVIDES FOR 77,000.

Declares Country is Prepared for War. Never More Effective in Ammunition and Equipment.

Washington, Feb. 17.—Denial of "alarming statements" that the army is unprepared for war is made in the report of the House Military Affairs Committee on the army appropriation bill, which will be considered in the House, following the passage of the Indian budget.

In rejecting the estimates of Secretary Garrison for an increased army, the House committee says that "we felt obliged to keep down expenditures; and in so doing, we we have not imperiled the country. For, notwithstanding the alarming statements which have been made and which seem to be always coincident with the consideration of the army bill, we have in reserve large supplies of ammunition, stores and equipment, and the army has never been more efficient than it is today."

The committee report, filed by Chairman Hay, of the House Committee, says that "no good reason has been advanced for the increase of the army over what it was last year."

In consequence, the army bill provides appropriations for 77,500 men exclusive of the Philippine Scouts the Hospital Corps, and the quartermaster's corps. The estimates of the Secretary of War, which was badly slashed, called for an army of 85,000 men, exclusive of these branches.

Chairman Hay, speaking for the committee, says that more than a million dollars has been spent on the army in the last decade. The current bill provides $94,214,173.00, which means the estimates of the War Department have been pared more than ten million dollars.

FORTUNE AWAITS HEIRS.

Former Virginian Dies in Utah Leaving No Will For Disposal of Property.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 17.—The sum of $6,000 in cash, not to mention other possible holdings, is in the Salt Lake City bank waiting to be claimed by the Virginia heirs of Thomas Morgan, who died in the Utah capital in 1912. The aid of the State of Virginia has been solicited by the lawyers in charge of the search for the Morgan heirs. There is reason to believe that Morgan, who lived fifteen or 20 years in Utah, was a Virginian by birth, a veteran of the Southern army and one of Custer's Indian scouts.

FIRE AT SOLDIERS' HOME.

Bakery Destroyed Within 35 Feet of Richmond Hospital

Richmond, Va., Feb 17—Sixty-esven hospital patients, many of them extremely feeble, were imperiled last night at 7:30 o'clock, when fire broke out in the bakery of the Soldiers' Home, at Stuart Avenue and the Boulevard. Prompt work on the part of firemen, under the direction of Assistant Chief Wise, quickly had the flames under control, and prevented them from spreading. Although steps had been taken to move the veterans at a moment's notice, this action was not necessary.

HAS ENOUGH OF HOBOING

Man and Boy Narrowly Escape Freezing to Death in C. & O. Box Car

How a man and his boy companion were found nearly frozen to death in a box car in the 17th street yards of the C. & O. railroad Saturday came to light yesterday in Justice Crutchfield's court in Richmond, where they were identified as Pasquale Dallallo, 27 years old, a deserter from the army post at Fort Myer, and 18-year-old Robert Collins, who said he was the son of a merchant of Alexandria.

Patrolman John Matt responded to a message telephoned to the First precinct police station that two persons had been found dead when the door of a box car was broken open. A group of railroad men was gathered around the open door of the car when he arrived. They pointed significantly to two inert figures on the floor.

Matt clambered into the car and after a hasty look at the motionless figures called for help ,saying he felt sure there was still life in both men. Ten minutes' strenuous efforts at resusitation resulted in signs of returning consciousness and the half frozen pair were lifted out of the car and taken to the station house. They had taken off their shoes when they entered the car Friday night to steal a ride to Richmond and the feet of both were frozen to several times their normal size. Not until today were they able to put on their shoes.

The man insisted that his name was John Doe. When questioned about the artilleryman's uniform which he was wearing he mumbled that it has been given to him by a friend.

Before being taken to court he is alleged to have confessed that he was De Lallo, and deserted from Ft. Myer a few days ago. He said his home was at Providence, R. I. and that he enlisted nine months ago. The police telegraphed the military authorities and De Lallo was remanded to jail for ten days.

The boy, who pleaded to be allowed to go home, was not arrested, but sent to the juvenile detention home. He said he would never, never try "hoboing" again. The youth thought his father would send money for his return. The police wired the father.

(The boy perhaps is a resident of Alexandria county, as the city directory does not contain the name of Collins, a merchant.)

DAMAGE SUIT PENDING.

Second Day of Cox-Shepherd Case in Progress in Corporation Court.

The suit of Mary A. Cox against Frank Shepherd and others is still in progress in the Corporation Court today, with Judge L. C. Barley presiding. The case which has been pending for several years was commenced yesterday morning. It is for alleged damages to the property of Mrs. Cox on Cameron street, between Henry and Fayette streets, which was said to have been caused by water backing into her cellar because of a wall and fence erected by the defendants on an alley line in the rear of her property. The ownership of the alley is disputed.

The jury is composed of Courtney Acton, James W. Bales, John B Barrett, August Oehlert, E. Goldsmith, James B. Fitzgerald, William Desmond, John A. Cogan, C. W. Howell, A. S. Doniphan, Henry Baader and W. E. Lovejoy.

Mrs. Cox is represented by Attorneys Edmund Burke and Samuel P Fisher, corporation attorney, and the defendants by Leo P. Harlow H. Noel Garner and H. M. Smith the latter of Richmond.

The jury was taken to view the property yesterday afternoon. The case will probably be completed tonight.

SOCIAL REJUVENATION.

Past Glories of Virginia Capital Eclipsed in Series of Entertainments.

Richmond, Va., Feb. 17.—Bent upon reviving the social activity for which Richmond was famous in former days, Mrs. Henry Carter Stuart, wife of the new Governor of Virginia, is not only giving numerous dances at the executive mansion, but she has had Edward F. Miller, of Washington and New York, present at several of these functions to introduce and direct all of the latest steps.

Last week Mrs. Stuart was hostess at three small dances, and has issued invitations for a large reception and dance on Friday. This will not be confined to Richmond folk, the guest list including many persons of social prominence in this city and Baltimore.

Mrs. Martin W. Littleton, who recently went to Richmond to enlist the aid of the State of Virginia in her efforts to have Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson, placed under State and Federal supervision, was the guest of Mrs. Stuart during her stay in Richmond.

Mrs. Stuart, however, is not doing all of the entertaining that is done at the executive mansion. Governor Stuart is giving a series of state dinners to members of the legislature. He will give one tonight and another on February 24, at each of which plates will be laid for guests.

NEGRO RETURNS FIRE.

Police Used Pistol to Scare Fugitive Into Halting.

Petersburg, Va., Feb. 17.—Quite a bit of excitement was caused Saturday evening in the vicinity of the police station when a negro, known as "Yellow," resisted arrest and fired a pistol shot at Sergeant Payne and Detective Eanes of the city police force. The two officers made an effort to arrest the negro on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. When he saw them coming he ran down Cuthbert's alley with the two policemen in close pursuit. In an effort to attract the attenion of police headquarers and to frighten the negro, Sergeant Payne fired a shot into the air and when he did the fleeing negro turned and fired point blank at the officers. The sergeant returned the fire, the second shot taking effect, but the fugitive was not sufficiently wounded to halt the chase. He turned up Market street and through the stable yard of Captain Heath where he disappeared.

The officers exerted every effort to find him, but he had made good his escape. The sergeant declared that when the gun was turned upon him it appeared to be much larger than the ordinary revolver and resembled closely the mouth of a cannon.

The police believe that they will eventually succeed in capturing the fugitive, though he has eluded arrest up to the time.

WOULD ELECT JUDGE.

Delegate Price Would Alter Constitution.

Richmond, Feb. 17.—Another set of bills providing for the election of judges by the people has been offered in the House. The bills were introduced by Delegate Price, of Petersburg.

His bills do not require the popular election of the judiciary. They are drawn to give the Legislature the right to order an election of the judges as it sees fit. The bills are in the nature of constitutional amendments.

Should the bills be approved the Legislature, which will have the selection of the method by which the judges are to be chosen, may elect them itself or it may authorize the election of all the judges in any of the three classes—Supreme Court, Circuit and Corporation—or all of the three classes to the people.

Not guilty was the plea of Rev James H. De Pre, of Washington, when arraigned yesterday in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, to answer to an indictment charging him with false pretenses in connection with the sale of stock in a typewriter rebuilding company, in which it is alleged he was interested. Attorneys representing the minister, were allowed ten days by the court in which to demur to the indictment or take such other legal steps as they may deem necessary. The accused recently was tried, before an ecclesiastical court of his church, and was found not guilty of any misconduct.

INJURED BY TROLLEY CAR.

Woman's Skull Fractured and Left Leg Broken.

Norfolk, Feb. 17.—Miss Pearl Weinstein was seriously injured about 7:15 Sunday night when she was struck by car No. 2140 of the Virginia R. Ry., and Power Co., at Forty-third street and Myers avenue. Her skull was fractured and her left leg broken below the knee. She was sent to St. Vincent's Hospital for treatment.

According to the statement made by J. C. Atkinson, motorman on the car, Miss Weinstein started to cross in front of the car from the left hand side of the street so as to board it when the corner was reached. He said she tripped over the fender chain, fell into the fender and rolled out under the car. When the car was stopped she was pinned between the fender and truck. The wheels did not pass over her.

J. C. Atkinson, the motorman, and W. H. Harrison, the conductor, were arrested by the police of Lamberts Point station. They were later bailed.

A Neglected Cold Often Affects the Lungs

Many serious cases of Throat or Lung Trouble can be directly traced to a cough or cold which has been neglected. If you notice that a cough persists in clinging to you take warning. If you neglect trying to stop this supposed trivial trouble the throat and lungs later become affected. In many cases Eckman's Alterative has been the means of bringing permanent relief. Investigate this case:—

Saratoga, N. Y.

"Gentlemen: For five or six years I was troubled with cough and expectoration. I also had a high fever. My case was declared Lung Trouble by my physician. I was given Cod Liver Oil, Creosote and other medicines, all without benefit. At Christmas time, 1906, I was not expected to live. Calling Dr. R. H. McCarthy, he advised the use of Eckman's Alterative, which I took with excellent results. I have gained in weight, I go out in all weathers and have had no cough or cold whatever. I give these facts to encourage others to use Eckman's Alterative."

(Affidavit) JAS. W. KANALY.

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. GOVERNOR STUART AND THE ENABLING ACT.

As told in yesterday's dispatches to the Gazette from Richmond the fate of the enabling act which will give the people of Virginia a right to vote on the question of state-wide prohibition is in the hands of Governor Henry C. Stuart. The bill reached the governor yesterday and he advised that he would take the legal questions which have been raised as to the proper passage of the bill and its constitutionality under consideration. The governor further stated that he would receive briefs from both sides of the controversy but would not receive any delegations. In this course the governor has acted wisely, as the question to be settled is one that is of a legal nature and the personal element should not be permitted to enter.

To properly understand the governor's position we must take into account his utterances when he was a candidate for the position which he now occupies. Although not compelled to make any statement on the subject, as he was without opposition and represented no particular interests in his candidacy, Mr. Stuart declared that he would sign a state-wide submission bill if it was legally passed and responded to the test of constitutionality. Living up to this statement it now becomes the duty of his excellency to apply to the bill every reasonable test as whether or not it meets the requiremens of the constitution and laws which are already in force in the State. This is, of course, the duty of the governor on all matters but more particularly so the duty of Governor Stuart because of the specific conditions he outlined when a candidate.

There are several pertinent questions which have been raised by the opponents of the bill which appeal to us as especially convincing why Governor Stuart should refuse his signature to the measure.

The first and principal one involves the right of a minority of the state senators to pass legislation affecting the financial affairs of the commonwealth. Section No. 50 of the constitution provides that no bill creating a charge upon the public revenues or remitting taxes can become a law unless it receives a majority of all members elected to each House. Now the number of Senators elected to the Upper House is 40 and the affirmative vote of 19 members, who favored the enabling bill, is certainly not a majority of that body. The question then arises as to whether or not the enabling bill creates a charge upon the State and here the evidence is as conclusive as that a majority of the Senators failed to vote for the bill. The law as passed calls for an election which will be an expensive proposition, estimated at not less than $25,000. It provides for the payment of the clerks and judges, and all the expenses of the election. Here is a definite concrete charge upon the revenues of the State.

On this point alone, waiving aside the constitutionality of the act, we believe Governor Stuart has sufficient grounds to veto the measure.

But on the question of constitutionality there are some equally interesting and pertinent points. For instance, the clause in the bill which gives the right to breweries and wineries, already established, to continue operation and to ship their product without the state but denying the right of other citizens to embark in the same occupation is class legislation of the very worse kind, establishing a monopoly that is clearly in defiance of the State constitution. We are loth to believe that any court will uphold the right of the legislature to grant the Robert Portner Brewing Company, for example, the exclusive right for all time to come to manufacture beer in Alexandria and refuse all other men the same privilege. Even should the governor sign the bill and the supreme court of the State hold it to be constitutional we are convinced that the United States Supreme Court on the broad principle of public policy would declare any such proposition to be unsound law.

EFFECTIVE ADVERTISING.

Strong endorsement of newspaper advertising as the medium for best results was given in an address delivered recently by Horace Anderson, Assistant Secretary of the Title Guarantee and Trust Company, of New York City, before the Bank Publicity Association.

Mr. Anderson said that while circular advertising by banks should not be discountenanced, space in a standard daily newspaper would produce greater results. In order to reach the people of a city, Mr. Anderson told his hearers, the medium of distributing circulars is not only tedious, but more expensive than newspaper advertising. A man would pick up a circular, glance at it, and throw it away, said the speaker.

The news features of a newspaper serves as an attraction to the advertising columns, Mr. Anderson declared. The printing, mailing and distribution of circulars by banks for advertising purposes is more costly than continuous newspaper advertising, and more barren of results, the speaker said.

The above is equally applicable to advertisements of all business pursuits. Handbills, circulars, dodgers etc., have always fallen far below the expectations of those issuing them in results.

After several hundred years' experience sagacious business men have realized that the newspaper is the only effectual vehicle to bring patronage to any business pursuit. Robert Bonner, when he was booming the New York Ledger, over half a century ago, was awake to this fact He distributed gratis the first instalment of stories which appeared in the paper, but also paid for the insertion of the same in newspapers. Many old men and women now in our midst remember reading the opening chapters of the "Gunmaker of Moscow," "The Hidden Hand," Winning Her Way," etc., in the Alexandria Gazette.

On one occasion the publisher of the Ledger paid for four pages of agate type in the New York Herald. He reaped the fruits of his boldness in the use of printers' ink and died a millionaire.

GIVE THAT PUNY CHILD THIS GUARANTEED REMEDY.

If your child is underweight, listless, ailing, liable to get sick easily, it needs a medicine to build its weight and strength. For this purpose there is nothing else we know of that we can so strongly endorse as Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. The remarkable success of this splendid medicine is due to the fact that it contains ingredients that tone the nerves, enrich the blood and furnish to the entire system the strength, weight and health-building substances it needs. And it does all this without injuring the stomach In fact, Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is not only pleasant to take but even the most sensitive stomach is benefitted by it, and the digestion improved. On the other hand, it contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs, which most parents object to giving their children. It does its good work by taking hold of the weakness and builds the body up to its normal strength, at the same time making it strong to resist disease.

If Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion doesn't build your child up, feed the stunted puny muscles, and make the little one lively, strong, well and full of the animal spirits children are meant by nature to have, come back and tell us and get your money back. We don't want you to lose a cent. We think this is no more then fair, and leaves you no cause to hesitate. FILES FRAUD ORDERS

Aspiring Song Writers Rudely Awakened and Dreams Vanish.

An advertisement in newspapers and magazines throughout the nation enticed 229 aspiring and hopeful song-writers to swell the coffers of the [illegible] Music Publishing Co., [illegible] street, northwest, Washington, to the extent of $8,015, according to evidence presented by postal inspectors to Postmaster General Burleson, who recently issued a fraud order against the concern, barring it from the mails.

Would-be song writers who answered the advertisement were told to send their song poems to the concern, who agreed for $35 to write a musical setting about the verse send the writer of the poem 200 copies of the completed song, and pay the writer of the poem 50 per cent on royalties on all copies of the song that were sold, it is alleged by the inspectors.

But on the investment of $8,015, it is charged, 229 poem writers received only $13.03, and Postmaster General Burleson pronounced the transaction a scheme for obtaining money through the mails by false and fraudulent pretenses." A pamphlet issued by the company containing a photograph of a six-story building that was called the home of the concern figured in the inquiry.

In letters, inspectors charge, the company wrote poem writers:

"By having us publish your song, we place it absolutely in the home of music lovers by our special field agents. Fortunes are made yearly by writers of song hits. You have an opportunity to write a hit that will make you wealthy and famous in a day. We will have original music composed to your poem and pay you 50 per cent on the net profits of every copy we sell.'"

"The company designedly led song-poem authors," states the fraud order "to believe they would reap rich financial returns from their investment. Evidence shows returns to investors were practically nothing. From July, 1912, when it entered business, up to August 13, 1913, the concern published 229 songs at a cost to investors of $8,015."

During that time the company actually sold 366 copies of sheet music. The returns to all the investors combined amounted to $13,03."

AN IRATE MOTHER.

Miss Anne Kinney Bell Weds R. M. Valz in Washington Valtine Day.

Staunton, Va., Feb. 17.—"I'm going to Washington to spank the bride," said Mrs. H. M. Bell, Jr., a rich widow of this city, when she left yesterday morning for Washington after receiving a telegram announcing the marriage of her nineteen-year-old daughter, Anne Kinney, to Randolph M. Valz, twenty-one, youngest son of A. M. Valz, a rich railway contractor of Staunton.

The marriage of the young people was the culmination of a boy and girl romance of years duration.

Mr. Valz went to Washington a short time ago to accept a position with the Potomac Electric Power Company, in which his father owns a large interest.

Last week Miss Bell went to Alexandria to visit friends, and the pair, deciding that they could be separated no longer, obtained a license and were married at St. Michael's Episcopal Church, Washington, on Valentine Day.

A Prospectus

ISSUED BY

The Board of Managers OF THE Alexandria Hospital

A PROSPECTUS

THE HOSPITAL

The Alexandria Hospital has reached a crisis in its history. Established 1872 as an Infirmary it has grown with the demand of the time and has developed into a Hospital. As an Infirmary it gave home and comfort to the homeless and infirm. As a Hospital it gives temporary shelter with medical and Surgical aid and nursing to the sick.

OUR CITY

Many changes have taken place in Alexandria and its suburbs in forty two years. With the advancement of the times the population has doubled. There are now forty eight factories and thirty nine wholesale houses in our City. To meet the demands of the consumer there are three hundred and twenty eight retail stores. Our Streets and Schools have been improved to meet the need, and apartment houses have been built.

HOSPITAL NEEDS

With our City advancement has come a demand for a larger and better equipped Hospital. We need more beds—more rooms—and more nurses. The present equipment is entirely inadequate for the amount of work which must be done. It has been estimated by hospital authority that every town should have one hospital bed for every one hundred inhabitants. Alexandria and its suburbs has more than six hundred persons for each bed in its Hospital.

WORK OF OUR HOSPITAL

In the past three years there have been over twelve hundred patients treated in the Alexandria Hospital and over eight hundred surgical operations. Of this entire number of patients treated there have been only eighty five deaths. On an average one third of the patients treated are free patients. We believe the Hospital should care for the sick and injured who come to it, irrespective of color or religious creed. Both those able to pay and those who are not, the former because they will receive better care at less cost and greater comfort to themselves, their families and friends. For many of this class the Hospital is a necessity, living as they do in small apartments and rooming houses, where a protracted illness would be impossible for both the patients and their neighbors. The treatment of the second class, the free patient, is the real gage of the culture, refinement and Christian Brotherhood of a community. Some one quotes: 'The poor ye always have with you,' and does not believe in 'pauperizing' by free treatment. The modern Hospital points out the fact that, unless the destitute sick are helped they become a public burden instead of a self supporting unit to society. With the proper help, they may become an aid instead of a menace to the public.

THE TRAINED NURSE

Another opportunity of our modern Hospital is the training of nurses. The present day schools for nurses are not considered merely as an aid in the immediate care of the Hospital patient, but stand high among the educational institutions of the country. The trained nurse's influence as a public benefactor is felt from the time she enters training and does not stop when her period of training ends. As a graduate she enters the ranks in every city and town as pain alleviator, minister of the gospel of cleanliness and sanitation, public educator and disease preventor. She also renders proficient professional service in the home as an adjunct to the physician. As school nurse she detects and aids in the correction of defective vision and hearing of the pupils and prevents the spread of contagious and communicable diseases. Only those who have been ministered to by her or have need of her professional service when she cannot be gotten know the true value of the training school. The Alexandria Hospital maintains a training school for nurses, and it is not the least of its public service. The nurses are given the course of training and lectures required by the State Board of Examiners. They are required to pass examinations; given public graduating exercises, and awarded diplomas. After their course they are examined and registered by the State Board of Examiners. Some of the former graduates are filling positions of trust and responsibility. The Superintendent of the Training School is a graduate nurse, registered in three states and has had wide experience in Hospital and Training School work. The Assistant Superintendent is a graduate nurse in good standing in her profession. She has had many advantages and is competent in every line of the work.

THE MEDICAL STAFF

The medical and surgical staff cannot be excelled. It is made up of skillful, earnest, energetic men who give of their best skill and time to the poor who enter under their charge. They only need room to enlarge their work of doing good to humanity.

OUR SLOGAN

Let our Slogan be: A NEW HOSPITAL, BETTER EQIPMENT AND FACILITIES WITH WHICH TO LABOR FOR SUFFERING HUMANITY.

OUR APPEAL

An adequate Hospital Building will cost approximately fifty thousand dollars, ($50,000.00), and our appeal for this amount is addressed to you—to every man, woman and child and to every enterprise interested in the physical moral and educational development of Alexandria.
